INTRODUCTION

BE PREPARED FOR THE COMING AMENDMENTS. The Sarawak Labour Ordinance affects all Sarawak employers. HR persons are required to be conversant at it, as well as with the application of the laws in the workplace. The recent amendments which will closely follow the Employment Act 1955 amendments in 2022 of West Malaysia will have knee jerk effect to the existing work arrangements and terms of employment. Employers must be prepared for the surprises when the amendments become fully effective in 2024.

COURSE HIGHLIGHTS

- Highlighting new amendment to the SLO, their effects and pre-emptive actions you need to take to avoid serious issues that may arise in the contract of service
- The new benefits and calculation formulas for entitlements and payroll.
- New working hours and restrictions, problems affecting work scheduling and rights of employees
- Effects of new legislations on sexual harassment, forced labour and sexual harassment

COURSE OUTCOME

Upon successfully completing this course, participants will acquire valuable insights into implementing SLO provisions within their workplace. Additionally, they will become cognizant of potential challenges stemming from recent amendments.

Participant will benefit in these areas:

- Understanding the HR Ministry, its various departments, compositions, and their respective functions in dealing with interactions with officials.
- Developing the ability to navigate Labor Office inspections and manage proceedings during labor court hearings.
- Gaining a comprehensive grasp of employment contracts, terms and conditions, breaches of contract, related issues, and contract terminations.
- Acquiring a deep understanding of the definition of an employee and distinguishing between the treatment of various types of employees, including local, non-resident, foreign, domestic, and irregular workers.
- Becoming well-versed in matters concerning wage payments and deductions under new amendments
- Mastering the administration and control of all statutory benefits under the SLO, including recent amendments.
- Understanding the implications of these amendments and implementing corrective actions to ensure compliance and preempt potential issues.
